Dominic Duval Trio

Saturday August 23rd 2008

La Cucina extends its welcome to all refined music lovers, for our open air night of Jazz. A Mediterranean second floor hideaway beckons you to an intimate terrace that lends itself perfectly to small “concertini.”

All the way from New York we welcome Dominic Duval and his special guests, saxophonist Jimmy Halprin and drummer Brian Wilson. Hailed internationally as one of the best contemporary bassists to hit the jazz scene, this prolific musician’s sound defies classification and will be a perfect complement to our intimate venue.

Join us Saturday August 23rd as the trio celebrates the master works of jazz legend John Coltrane. Their performance will recreate the spirit of this great musician by taking us on a musical journey from 1955 to today. To learn more about Dominic Duval please visit www.dominicduval.com
