New Year's Eve

Wednesday December 31st, 2008

La Cucina invites you to honor Italian New Year's Eve customs with us in order to invoke good fortune in 2009. Enjoy a sumptuous meal including traditional New Year's fare such as lentils, whose coin shape promises future prosperity, and zampone di maiale, whose taste suggests the richness of the year to come. We will even cast off bad luck and bad habits by throwing them out the window as Italians do! Join us in our second seating as we enjoy a jazz performance by the Jason White Trio. As the New Year begins, thus it will continue, so begin it at La Cucina with a celebration to remember.

Tanti Auguri e Buon Anno!
